PREFACE

Tanzania in Figures 2016 provides important demographic and socio-economic statistics, as well as development indicators of the United Republic of Tanzania for the year 2016.

This booklet contains information from various statistical publications compiled by the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS), sector ministries, government departments and agencies. The booklet, therefore serves as a brief and comprehensive reference for such crucial statistical information.

In recognizing the contribution from various sources of inputs used in the compilation of this booklet, the National Bureau of Statistics would like to thank all organizations in the Government, parastatals and private sectors. The National Bureau of Statistics urges further co-operation in the compilation of the forthcoming editions of this booklet and other statistical publications.

In this booklet, information in some tables is sourced from surveys and therefore such information is not available for some years.

Comments and suggestions that may help to enrich the next edition of Tanzania in Figures are welcome from all statistics users.

This document is also available in the NBS website; www.nbs.go.tz. For more detailed information on the published statistics, please visit the NBS library.

Rounding

Figures are rounded off independently therefore, details may not add to total.

1.0 BACKGROUND

Tanganyika became independent and a Republic on 9th December, 1961 and 1962 respectively. Zanzibar became independent on 10th December, 1963 and the People's Republic of Zanzibar was established after the Revolution of 12th January, 1964. The two sovereign states formed the United Republic of Tanzania on 26th April, 1964.

The general election held in October 2015 brought to power His Excellency Dr. John Pombe Joseph Magufuli from Chama Cha Mapinduzi (CCM) as the fifth President of the United Republic of Tanzania for a five-year term.

Dodoma is the capital city and Dar es Salaam is the major commercial city. The official currency is the Tanzanian Shilling (TZS) and the national language is Kiswahili, but English is also widely used.
